Fire Risk Assessments - in compliance with the Regulatory Reform Order 2005

Reducing the risk of fire in the workplace

In order to fully comply with the Regulatory (Fire Safety) Reform Order 2005 it is your responsibility, as the employer, to carry out a fire risk assessment to reduce the risk of a fire in the workplace and ensure that the correct procedures are in place.

Carrying out fire risk assessments will identify any potential threats. You have a legal requirement to review and update your fire risk assessment annually, as a minimum.

How ClearView can help you

Our engineers can help you identify hazards and ensure that the most appropriate fire safety measures are in place, to minimise the risk of injury or fatality in the event of a fire.

We can provide you with a comprehensive service for both single and multi-site organisations to ensure your business complies with all current legislation.

With every fire risk assessment, you will receive:

- A comprehensive report with photographic illustrations
- Support from highly qualified engineers and fully trained assessors
- Full compliance, meeting all of your legal and insurance obligations
- Peace of mind knowing all risks in the work place have been considered
- The highest standards of service and customer care

If you have not yet carried out a complete fire risk assessment on your premises you may be in breach of the Fire Safety Legislation. Should a fire occur at your premises, your insurance company will determine the validity of your claim by inspecting the quality of your documentation.

ClearView will ensure your fire risk assessment undertaken to the highest standard to ensure that your insurance cover is not compromised
